SOLUTIONS WITHOUT BORDERS

Enterprise Application Integration (EAI)

Delegata focuses on reducing the overall complexity of integration.

The Challenge

Integration is the key to improving workflow. Government organizations have significant investments in various legacy systems. Combine those systems with a new emphasis on packaged applications and you get a complex network with a considerable need for integration. New approaches to applications and integration are steering away from larger applications to smaller components with global capabilities. The challenge is not only to resolve integration issues, but to find ways that reduce the amount of integration altogether.

The Solution

Delegata's EAI solutions configure components that address specific enterprise scenarios. We focus on establishing a strategy that reduces the overall complexity of integration. Whether you are solving a small issue or developing an entire strategy, platform or competency, we ensure that your investment is applied to meet short and long-term viability.

The Approach

Delegata's approach to integration reduces investment and builds a cohesive solution. To this end, Delegata designed Diamond®, a dynamic and flexible internal methodology. Where best practice and client-specific standards exist, they are incorporated to quickly create viable solutions. Diamond® crafts the plan that anticipates the entire solution life cycle. From initiation and implementation through to optimization, it is applicable to every stage of development.

The Benefits

Delegata's EAI solutions deliver significant operational benefits to our clients. By setting a strong direction, the sum of integration requirements is significantly reduced to ensure access to the information you need. EAI is implemented to:

- Ensure accuracy
- Increase quality of information
- Save time
- Accelerate updates
- Significantly lower manual processing
- Decrease keypunch errors
- Validate data
